U. S. Steers Europe Into Conference Of Its Own

Agreement Between Lloyd George and Poincare on Program Is Urged

WANT LAND ARMS CUT NEXT

U. S. Wants to Stay Aloof and Let Continent Remedy Its Political Affairs

Washington — America's program for world reconstruction has been outlined to the governments of Europe. There are signs that Prime Minister Lloyd George, at least is trying to persuade Premier Poincare to follow it. Instead of a world conference on economic affairs at Genoa, including a variety of subjects, the United States believes Europe should first solve its political problem and reduce its armies.

Here is the program which throws new light on the reasons why the Genoa conference was postponed and explains the latest development in Europe where Prime Minister Lloyd George is reported as proposing a ten year's truce whereby land armies shall be reduced and a guarantee given of the political stability of Europe:

U. S. WATCHES STEP

First, the United States government wishes to help Europe but cannot entangle herself in Europe's political affairs. Upon political stability depends economic aid from America.

Second, the United States government believes the program of the Genoa conference was too wide-sweeping and attempted too much. It believes a limited program having for its object the political stability of Europe would have more chance of success. The Washington conference is pointed to as an example of what can be done with the peace of the world as a basis. The problems are confined to a small group of powers directly interested instead of the whole world.

Third, the United States government feels it has done its share in the limitation of naval armaments and guaranteeing the peace of the Pacific. Now let Europe tackle land armaments and the political apprehensions that exist between Europe and Germany or England and France or Italy and France as the case may be.

HOOVER SEES WAY OUT

The words of Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, are the man whose vision and knowledge President Harding strongly relies in economic matters, are the best explanation of what is going on inside the administration here. His views have been reflected in the communications sent abroad. Mr. Hoover wrote three days ago that the significance of which was overlooked. More of the speech was not reported in the press. Mr. Hoover said:

"All America hopes that the continent of Europe can enter upon those steps which will lead to a reduction of her land armaments and thus lay the foundations upon which economic reconstruction can be safely built. There must be a great recall to reason or Europe may join Russia through economic degeneration. Such a recall might prove to be comparable in good with the Washington conference in its contribution to political stability and its effect upon economic progress."

BRITAIN IN ACCORD

Mr. Hoover's views carry added weight since it was announced that he would be a member of President Harding's commission to fund the allied war debt. There is every reason to believe that Great Britain is in thorough accord with the policy of the United States and is endeavoring to persuade France to join in a conference which shall assure Europe against military aggression by any of its component parts. Sometime ago a proposal was made that France, Belgium, Great Britain, and Italy should sign a four-power pact similar to that signed in Washington that guaranteeing all nations should come to the aid of the other in case of unprovoked aggression. It was suggested also that Germany herself be included in the treaty so that she would be pledged against undertaking offensive measures.

Prime Minister Lloyd George knows that unless Europe gives evidence of agreement through the league of nations or four-power pact of a genuine intent to put its own house in order, America must remain indifferent to the pleas of Europe for economic aid. Until Europe ceases spending money for the maintenance of the allied war debt. The key to the situation today, therefore, is the secret conference between Prime Minister Lloyd George and Premier Poincare.

HUGE FORCE IS BUILDING UP POWER LINES

Traction Company Crews Put in Long Hours Until All Have Service Again

Everything that is within the power of the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company to do to restore power and lighting service is being done. Large numbers of extra linemen and huge shipments of material are arriving daily to speed the work of replacing the ruined electrical system.

"We are working our men 14 to 18 hours a day in order to remedy conditions," said A. K. Ellis, general manager of the company, "and we will continue to do so until everybody is supplied with proper service. We are taking care of local service first and will get our country wires back into shape as quickly as we can."

HILBERT LINE DOWN
The worst damage to the company's lines was in the power section between Sherwood and Hilbert, Calumet. Construction of the type that withstood the storm in Appleton and vicinity gave way in the above region, and hardly a pole was left standing over a mile area. A large line crew has been assigned to rebuild these lines.

Ten additional linemen obtained from the Milwaukee electric company arrived in Appleton Monday morning and more are coming as soon as they can be called away from other work. Every truck owned by the local traction company is being utilized in Appleton, Neenah and Menasha, each manned with a full crew. These men are covering the ground with satisfactory progress rewiring homes and putting up feed wires.

HAD MATERIALS

Workers kept right on with their work all through Sunday in both city and country. More than 200 homes were supplied with light. Some people found their houses connected up at 10 o'clock Sunday night, for linemen still were on duty at that hour. The company was fortunate, Mr. Ellis said, to have plenty of material on hand so the relief work could start without a moment's delay. Enough poles are available here to replace all broken ones. A large amount of wire had to be shipped in. Fifty per cent of this already is on hand, and a shipment of 24,000 pounds of copper wire is on its way from Milwaukee by express for the Sherwood-Hilbert circuit. With smaller railroads serving towns in this region out of service, it was necessary to transport all equipment by team.

RESTORE CURRENT

Seymour, Black Creek, New London, Hortonville and rural points west have had service restored. A break occurred somewhere on the Seymour line Monday morning due to the weight of ice, but a patrol crew sent on over the line was expected to remedy this within a few hours. Power circuits in Appleton, Neenah and Menasha all have been repaired so no factories are idle on this account.

Street car service was resumed on city lines at noon Sunday. The local tracks were dug out last. The company has been hampered in getting back to its regular schedules because the motors of so many cars gave out. The strain under which cars operate, the frequent reversals and the condition of the system caused many short circuits and the car barn has a number of cars waiting to be repaired. One car caught fire at Neenah on this account but the blaze was extinguished by the Neenah fire department before much damage was done. Two cars are in use on the local lines, one to Kaukauna and three to the Twin Cities.

HUGE MOUNTAIN OF MAIL STACKED IN POSTOFFICE

City Carriers Deliver First Class Matter First—On Schedule Now

Early Monday morning Appleton postoffice began the difficult task of delivering stacks of letters and mountains of newspapers and parcels which arrived in the city Saturday night and Sunday after being delayed three days in Milwaukee, Chicago and other points.

Complying with postal regulations governing procedure under circumstances of this kind, city carriers Monday morning were delivering only first class matter and daily papers. As soon as all important mail has been moved the mail of less importance will be taken care of. All important mail, it was assured, would be delivered Monday and by Tuesday night the bulk of the accumulated second and third class matter will be taken care of.

From Saturday night till Monday morning 95 bunches of first class mail had arrived here. This brought the city's receipts up to the minute and from now on mail will be received and forwarded on schedule. The total receipts of newspapers and parcels amounted to a few hundred sacks.

Very early Monday morning, the delivery truck began moving a stack of parcels addressed to college students. This was taken first for the reason that it could be delivered to the dormitories before business places were open in the morning. Mail will move on schedule from now on. Postmaster Gustave Keller said Monday morning. Trains are not yet running on time but they are not too late to interfere with the regular schedule of mails.

FAVORABLE REPORT ON 4 POWER PACT

Borah, Johnson and Shields Expect to Carry Opposition to Senate Floor

By Wireless to Post-Crescent
Washington — Foreign relations committee ordered favorable report to Senate on four-power Pacific treaty with reservations opposing use of force in the naval limitations and submarine treaties. Only general Far Eastern and Chinese tariff facts still remain in committee, but Chairman Lodge plans to retain all for formal presentation probably next week after vote on the separate treaty regarding Japan. Senators Borah, Johnson, and Shields, opposed four power pact in the committee and said they would carry fight to the floor.

FIRE THREATENED GAS PLANT HERE

Fire in the gas plant of the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company at noon Saturday completely destroyed the cupola and resulted in damage estimated at a few hundred dollars. For a time, anxiety was felt lest the fire be communicated to the gas tanks and every precaution was taken to prevent an explosion. The fire department answered the call in full force but only chemicals were used to extinguish the blaze. It is explained that the cupola of the building is always extremely warm and that other the intense heat or a spark from the engines started the fire.

DEAD—ONLY FOR 15 MINUTES

The doctor had pronounced Mrs. Abbie Hart, of Heckmonwike, York, England, dead. Her heart and breathing had stopped. Her jaw had dropped. Fifteen minutes later when the doctor was expecting someone to call for the death certificate he was told she still lived. And here she is with her husband.

Mental Suicide Renders Church Immune To Torture

Chicago. — Medical and psychological experts who for thirty days have been watching the desperate effort of Harvey W. Church, double slayer, sentenced to hang on Friday, to cheat the gallows by starving himself to death, on Sunday declared that he had succeeded in committing mental suicide.

According to Dr. Norman Cope, land, who has been directing the work that has felled Church's hunger strike through forcible feeding during the last two weeks, the physical crisis in the youth's condition has passed and he will live physically.

Other physicians, however, assert that Church already is mentally dead. He is not insane, they say, but has reduced himself to such a state of self-hypnosis that he will feel no pain.

when the trap is sprung on Friday. Church's hunger strike began more than thirty days ago. For the last two weeks he has been forcibly fed, but seems insensible to pins stuck in to his flesh or any other effort to arouse him.

"At times we are not even sure he is breathing," the death watch said. "It would be easier to sit beside a corpse."

Meanwhile Church's mother is praying for death to release him before he is carried to the gallows to pay the penalty for the slaying of two automobile salesmen to obtain possession of their car.

"He's innocent," she insists, "because he must have been insane and did not know what he was doing."

COUNTY BOARD TO CONSIDER ADDING TO COURTHOUSE

County Clerk and Register of Deeds Need More Office Room

One of the most important matters which was to have come before the county board this week and which will be taken up next month when it does meet is a proposed addition to the courthouse.

Officers of the register and the county clerk are too small, the business of the county having outgrown their present quarters.

Another need is facilities for women jurors, and it is understood the absence of these is the reason why no women have been called to serve on juries in Outagamie.

The matter is to be introduced at the winter session of the board so that architects can submit sketches of the addition and have them acted upon at the April session. It is possible that if the proposition is favorably acted upon that work upon the new structure will be commenced the coming summer.

While definite details will not be made until they reach the board it is understood the new addition will be located on the south side of the present building and in all probability will be two stories high.

It is possible that two offices mentioned will remain in their respective corners of the building, but will be increased to more than double their present size. Just what provisions will be made for Judge A. M. Spencer whose office is located between the other two has not been announced.

SCHLAFER HELD SNOWBOUND FOR NEARLY 2 DAYS

Appleton Businessman Runs In to Terrific Snowstorm in South Dakota

Otto P. Schlafer arrived in Milwaukee from Seattle, Wash., Saturday afternoon 52 hours late and did not reach Appleton until nearly midnight. He was snowbound in Mackintosh, a small village in South Dakota, for 42 hours, but did not suffer from hunger or cold as he was on a through train that was well provided with both provisions and fuel.

The storm in South Dakota took the form of the worst blizzard that has visited that part of the country in recent years. The snow was driven by a terrific gale that filled all the railroad cuts and tied up traffic generally.

Mr. Schlafer said the storm extended west as far as Montana, but he saw no snow until he reached LaCrosse. He forwarded a telegram from Mackintosh to his home, but reached home before it was delivered. It was relayed from Green Bay by mail.

Business conditions on the Pacific coast are worse than they are in Wisconsin and a large number of men are out of employment. Mr. Schlafer started for home Monday, Feb. 20, and when he left there grass was ready to cut and flowers were in bloom.

28 In Line To Pay Taxes As Office Opens

With only two days left in which to pay city taxes without the 2 per cent penalty, the office of City Treasurer Fred Bachman in the city hall was crowded all day Monday. When the office was opened at 9 o'clock Monday morning 28 tax payers were waiting in line and as they were waited on others came to take their places.

Nearly $400,000 in city taxes remained to be collected Monday morning. Mr. Bachman expected to take in half that amount Monday. City taxes are due by 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and all taxes not paid by that time will be turned over to Chief of Police Prim for collection.

THIRD WARD IS READY TO PUT UP NEW SCHOOL

Work Will be Started at Once if Junior School Matter is Not Rushed

With every room and every class in its two school buildings overcrowded with nearly 800 pupils, the Third district is planning to erect a new $150,000 or $200,000 school building on one of its two sites the coming year unless the board of education and common council take immediate action on the junior high problem.

After holding off erecting a new building for more than a year in the hope the school question would be solved, the situation in that district has reached a stage where it is necessary for the school board to act promptly and it intends to do so.

Realizing several years ago that the city would grow in the direction of the Third and Fifth wards, the school board of the Third district provided for future expansion by acquiring desirable sites for a building in each ward. These sites could not be purchased today for several times the price that was paid for them.

The property in the Fifth ward includes all of block 15 in Bell Heights between DeForest and Ryan and Mason and Summit streets, and the site in the Third ward all of block one between Spencer and Emily and Mason and Outagamie streets, and part of Douglas addition.

In order to provide for present requirements the school board added two rooms in the Fifth ward building by reducing the size of the assembly hall and in the Third ward building additional room was gained by converting the hall on the third floor into a room and adding a spiral fire escape for the protection of pupils.

DECIDE TODAY ON CEMENT PURCHASE

Highway Commission Will Decide if It Should Buy Now or Wait

A decision whether to buy cement at the decreased price now offered by manufacturers or wait till the state highway commission has made some move, will probably be made for Outagamie, by the county road and bridge committee in a meeting at the courthouse Monday afternoon.

Along with this matter the committee will decide whether to advertise for bids for highway construction projects planned for this year. These two matters are linked together because in this county it has always been the custom for contractors to furnish the cement needed in the work. Consideration will also be given to the matter of purchasing a coal tar product to fill cracks and crevices in concrete highways this spring.

If I Washed Windows—

BY GO-GETTER
The first thing I would do would be to let it as many people as possible know that I washed windows and could wash theirs.

This would require a lot of time if I had to go around from house to house and building to building. But I wouldn't do that. Instead I'd let a Post-Crescent Want Ad carry my message to every person in Appleton. Think of the time I'd save, to say nothing of the new customers I'd get.

Any number of families have windows that they want washed. But they don't know who to get to the job. My Want Ad would tell them. More than likely I'd have to get an assistant or two, but that means more profit for me.

Telephone Connection at Fond du Lac Gives Service to Milwaukee and Chicago for First Time Since Storm Wrecked Lines

ALL TRAINS TO RUN TUESDAY

Continuous Relief Work Over Sunday Removes Seriousness of Isolation—Work Crews Flock Here from All Over U. S.

Nine o'clock Monday morning was a historic hour for the Wisconsin Telephone company. It marked the completion of the first step to dig the Fox river valley out of the storm debris.

At that hour linemen working south reached Fond du Lac with an emergency long distance telephone circuit. When the connection was made with the Fond du Lac exchange and the line tested Green Bay, Appleton, Neenah, Menasha and Oshkosh were linked with Milwaukee and Chicago, and thus with the outside world for the first time since Wednesday of last week.

Relief work continued without abatement by all affected companies all through Sunday, and Monday morning found this locality in the best shape of any day since normal activities were disrupted by the costly sleet storm last week.

EUROPE EAGER FOR UNITY OF ALL CHURCHES

Bishop R. H. Weller Tells What Has Been Done Toward Christian Reunion

In his address on "Reuniting of the Christian Church" before the last peoples forum in Lawrence Memorial chapel Sunday evening, Bishop R. H. Weller of Fond du Lac, said Europe wants Christian unity far more than we do. The great church of the east with its 175,000,000 of people, which we are inclined to look down upon wants it as no religious body in America, he said.

The address was a fitting close to a most successful series. The Rev. J. A. Holmes presided. The musical part of the program consisted of an overture by Miss Margaret Engler, and two solos, "He That Dwelleth in the Sacred Place of the Most High," and "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," by Mrs. J. T. Quinn. Prayer was offered by the Rev. J. H. Tippet.

VISIT IN ROME
After predicting that the boys and girls of Lawrence college will have to face problems in the future that cannot be faced today, Bishop Weller told of the conference of the Episcopate of the United States, held in 1910, at which a commission was appointed to bring about a world conference of all the Christian bodies that acknowledge Christ as God and Savior.

The commission went to work. The bishop said he was appointed a member and went abroad just after the armistice was signed. He was one of the members that visited Rome which was one of the places at which the commission was not successful. He told of the trouble the commission had in securing transportation and declared that Germany came nearer winning the war than anyone had any idea.

The commission was unable to get ships from Italy to Alexandria; from Smyrna to Alexandria and from Constantinople to Alexandria. About the only ships in service were the United States ships operating between the United States and Europe and Americans were held in the greatest esteem everywhere, the bishop said.

After waiting four months the commission crossed the Mediterranean, but the speaker said it would have been easier and cheaper to have rowed across. A visit was paid to Jerusalem, where Bishop Weller said he presented the proposition to the bishops and received encouragement. Other cities were visited and everywhere the religious leaders manifested interest in the undertaking and asked numerous questions.

NO DATE SET FOR MEETING
The conference at Cincinnati set no date for the world conference and no program and the religious leaders of the foreign church were so informed. Bishop Weller did not know how the conference would be brought about or who would attend it, but had faith that Providence would provide means.

In his capacity as a member of the commission the speaker said he had lately addressed a letter to all the bishops of the Episcopal church in the United States urging them to forward the movement in each diocese. The first step was taken last summer at a preliminary conference. There are now 6 different churches including substantially all of the Christian world except the Roman church and certain sections of the Lutheran acting with this commission.

Because he is a bishop the speaker said he was traveling constantly. He has in his district all of Wisconsin from Fond du Lac to Lake Superior. He visits each city, village and hamlet at least once a year.

In each village he finds a few Catholics.

STYLE SHOW NOT TO BE COMBINED WITH EXPOSITION

Advertising Club Fears Exposition Plans Will Not be Ready in Time

Appleton's style show will be conducted on Monday, March 13, under the auspices of the Advertising club as was originally planned. Instead of arranging to hold it in conjunction with an exposition to be put on through the efforts of the chamber of commerce. At a meeting of the style show committee recently, the question of holding the events together was discussed.

It was found, however, that the chamber of commerce will be unable to prepare for the exposition by the second week in March and the committee felt there would be no justification for waiting because of the short selling season for wearing apparel. In case preparations for the exposition can be completed by March 13, the two events will be conducted in conjunction.

An auto show about 7:30 on the evening of the first day will be a feature. Style shows will be put on in several stores on College-ave. Preparations are under way whereby there will be other exhibitions either on the street or in the stores covering almost the entire length of the street. A canvas of the merchants will be made in a few days to determine their attitude toward giving prizes to visitors in this city. Efforts will be made to have the business houses decorate their windows during the week and to offer extra style values.

olies, Methodists, Congregationalists, Presbyterians, Baptists and Lutherans, each denomination supporting its own church. The money wasted in the hamlets of America on the so-called Christian religion is enough to convert the world, the bishop said.

Every one of the ministers in whose communities is living on a salary that is entirely inadequate.

REALTORS' SECRETARY IS TO BE PAID SALARY

F. G. Haigh, newly elected secretary of the Wisconsin Association of Real Estate Brokers, will open offices in Green Bay as soon as he is released from his present position as assistant to the superintendent of schools at East DePere. Until Mr. Haigh takes over the work it will be done by Dan E. Gaffney, retiring secretary.

From now on the office of secretary will be a full time salaried position. Heretofore no salary has been paid the secretary but the work of the association has grown so fast that the entire time of one man must be devoted to it. Mr. Haigh will also edit the Realty Record, the official organ of the association.

Mr. Gaffney was presented with a gold watch by the association in appreciation of the work he has done.

Last Of Salad Recipes Is Printed Herewith

Here we are at last with the remainder of the salads and salad dressings. Monday we will begin the invalid cookery, which will not take so long. For the woman who has plenty of time in which to prepare food, there is a jelly salad among these which should be fun to make. It would be lovely to serve on a Sunday when there are guests. Let's try it, sometime.

MAYONNAISE DRESSING
1 tsp. mustard.
1 tsp. salt.
1 tsp. powdered sugar.
Few grains cayenne.
Yolks of 2 eggs.
2 tbsp. lemon juice or 2 tbsp. vinegar.

1 1/2 cup olive oil.
Mix dry ingredients, all egg yolks, and when well mixed, add 1/2 tsp. of vinegar. Add oil very slowly and stir constantly as mixture thickens, thin with vinegar or lemon juice, stirring constantly. If oil is added too rapidly, the dressing may curdle. To make it smooth again, take yolk of another egg and add curdled mixture slowly to it.—M. Alpers, 387 North-st.

SALAD DRESSING
Boil five tablespoons vinegar and stir into it the well beaten yolks of five eggs. Take from stove as soon as it thickens. While hot, add piece of butter, size of small egg. 1 teaspoon of a mixture composed of five teaspoons salt, 1 of mustard, 1 of cayenne. When cool, add one half pint of cream whipped stiff and juice of 1/2 of a lemon. This is most excellent for salmon salad composed of equal quantities of canned salmon and celery.—Mrs. Louis Eisch, 1202 DeForest-ave.

CHICKEN SALAD
1 chicken, 1 large onion, 2 bay leaves, 1 carrot, 1 teaspoon bread crumbs 1/4 teaspoon celery salt, 1 pt. mayonnaise dressing. Place clean chicken in kettle with onion, bay leaves, and carrot, bread crumbs and celery salt, cover with boiling water and cook rapidly for a few minutes then allow to simmer until chicken is tender. Set aside until cool, when skin of chicken should be carefully removed, cut chicken into small pieces, rejecting all bones and fat. An equal quantity of celery should also be cut in small pieces, sprinkle chicken with a tablespoon of lemon juice, dust with salt and a little paprika. Then mix with the celery and add 1-2 the dressing, mix lightly with two forks until every part of chicken and celery is covered with dressing. Line salad bowl with crisp lettuce leaves, put in the chicken and pour over it the balance of dressing.—Mrs. Thomas Welles, 910 Durkceet.

JELLY SALAD
Make aspic jelly, fill bottom of salad dish with a little of the jelly and set on ice. When hard set in the salad dish on top of the jelly, a bowl large enough to hold the desired amount of salad, and fill bowl with ice. Pour jelly around until almost reaching the top of bowl, when the jelly is hard remove ice from bowl and fill with warm water for a moment only then remove bowl from jelly, being careful not to break the jelly. Make any of the ordinary salads, such as chicken, veal, lobster, shrimp, fruit or vegetable salads, and garnish with gherkins, pickled beets, marinated eggs. Place salad in the space left in the jelly and cover salad with the remaining jelly. After it has become a little hard set aside in ice box. When wanted set dish in warm water a moment. Line a platter with lettuce leaves and turn salad out on a platter. Have a mayonnaise dressing or Cream salad dressing ready to serve with salad. Remember in making this salad the bottom of the dish will be the top when turned out. This is especially pretty to be arranged in a border mold, and after turning out fill the center with more of the meat, vegetable or fruit salad mixed with mayonnaise or cream dressing. The aspic jelly is made as follows for this salad. To three pints of clear, strong consome add 2 ounces gelatine previously soaked in cold water, and the whites and shells of 3 eggs. Mix well together, adding more seasoning if needed, and 1 gill of light wine, or enough lemon juice or tarragon vinegar to make a pleasant flavor. Clear accordingly.—Mrs. Theodore H. Lembecke, 327 Meade-st.

CHICKEN SALAD
Mix one cup cold cooked chicken, cut in cubes, 1 cucumber pared and cut in cubes, 1 cup chopped English walnut meats and 1 cup canned peas. Moisten with 3 tablespoons olive oil.

CHIROPRACTIC "The Master Key"

The Science of CHIROPRACTIC can truly be named the "MASTER KEY" that unlocks the door to Health. After centuries of unwavering search on the part of Humanitarians in an endeavor to find a Drugless Method that will unlock the door of Health, it has been proved beyond a reasonable doubt that in CHIROPRACTIC a Master Key has been discovered. PURE CHIROPRACTIC is no longer an untried theory. It has been tried and weighed in the balances and found to be full weight, i.e. One Hundred per cent. Knowing this, why are you sick when by using the Master Key CHIROPRACTIC you can unlock the door to Health and become a useful, strong, red blooded, citizen? Because you have no pain in your back is no sign that your vertebrae are in perfect condition. If a nerve leading to your liver is impinged (pinched) where it emerges from the spine, the disease will be in the liver not in the back. If the nerves leading to the tissues of the back are impinged then the disease will be in the tissues of the back. The subluxation (displacement) may not be great enough for your family physician to detect but REMEMBER, his fingers are not trained for such work, while the Chiropractor's are. The teaching of CHIROPRACTIC is radically different from all other methods, both drugs and drugless, yet in perfect harmony with Anatomy and Physiology. It teaches that Disease is caused by occlusion of nerve force caused by pressure on spinal nerves by slight displacement of the small bones of the spine and that to relieve those diseased conditions, thus relieving the nerve force to the diseased tissues. If you are anxious to enjoy HEALTH and wish to know what CHIROPRACTIC will do for you, call and see your CHIROPRACTOR at your first opportunity.

Persian Effects in Bundhar Imperial Wilton Rugs

ACCORDING to a noted authority on the nomenclature of Oriental Rugs, it is impossible at this day to select any number of rug motifs from the multitude in use, and classify them as belonging exclusively to any single group of fabrics or to any locality. The decorative art of the East is too old a growth; its beginnings are too deeply hidden in the shadows of an earlier age; its journeyings too manifold.

It is equally true, however, that one may instantly and unerringly, by reason of certain well-defined characteristics, classify a rug as a Chinese, Turkish, Caucasian or the Persian type.

The wealth of floral ornamentation noticeable in all Persian fabrics is here seen, as is also the compactness of the pattern and the frequency with which it is repeated—all qualities which have won for it an honored place in the esteem of those who appreciate distinctive furnishings.

For a third of a century Bundhar Wilton Rugs have been widely known as America's "Durable as Iron" floor fabrics. They are carefully made of well selected yarns and dyes in designs and colors which have won the approval of the most critical.

Polly and Paul--and Paris

Chapter 43--The Studio Party

BY ZOE BECKLEY

Paul had been called away to supervise an important installation in the north of France. It was in an area where the few hotels that had been rebuilt were so crude that it was decided for Polly to say in the little flat with the good concierge at hand. "You've been moping in the house too much lately," announced Norma Bray, dropping in from the art school one day. "You're booked for a party tonight! Oh, no protests--it's a very nice party in the studio of my friends the Crassards."

"But I'll be a fifth wheel! I haven't any escort!"

"Nobody has escorts, they just come. Put on that heavenly come froufrou with the wide neck and little straps at the shoulders, and the snips of sleeves. You're the only woman on earth that's got decent elbows!"

The Crassards' home was in an ancient by-street in the student quarter, picturesque beyond words.

As the two went in, everybody shouted a welcome, and the painter and his wife made Polly feel instantly at home. The studio's high north window had a bright red curtain drawn across it, against which were great graceful branches of leaves and berries. Below it was a broad couch reaped with cushions, on which half a dozen young folk were holding forth with guitars, ukuleles, a wincey zither and a banjo with a cracked head.

"Ah, here they are! I began to think they weren't coming!" Norma nudged Polly to look. It was Miss Rand and George Barry.

"Why, didn't you tell me they'd be here?"

"Because, silly, you might have balked at coming. Now listen, Polly darling, and do as I say. I'm a wise bird, if I am an old maid. Just you be a little nice to Barry--you know, a bit of zip and sparkle--and you'll have Vio eating out of your hand."

"Biting it off more likely," said Polly. But she felt her spirits rising in the merry atmosphere, and when George Barry caught sight of her and came over holding out both hands to greet her, she couldn't suppress a flash of vainglorious pride.

"Come sit with us!" sang out Norma. "Polly's Queen of the May and I'm her lady in waiting."

"Doesn't take much urging to sit at these feet!" murmured Barry, flinging himself on a cushion beside Polly's neat ankles. "If I were king--" he began to quote, but got no further. "The crowd caught the phrase, which appealed to its carnival spirit."

"You are, you are! You're elected unanimously!" shouted somebody. The rest took up the cry.

Hubbub ensued. Barry was dragged to the chair on the model's platform. Another was put beside it. The clamor broke out again.

"Choose your queen!"

"Speech, speech!"

"Queen, qu-e-e-e-n!"

Polly never knew how it happened, but suddenly she felt herself borne aloft and placed in the chair beside Barry, while the company cheered and pounded with gloe and the "king" bowed solemnly and placed a kiss of salute upon her cheek.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

Today's word is ABORIGINAL.

It's pronounced ab-oh-rij-in-ull with accent on the third syllable.

It means--first, native, indigenous, primitive, original.

It comes from--Latin "ab origine," from the beginning.

Companion word--aborigines.

It's used like this: "The red Indians were the aboriginal inhabitants of America."

SPARE TIME JOBS FOR FATHER

Youngsters have a habit of taking playthings into the front room. Then someone calls and mother has to rush them all out into the playroom or bedroom.

The task is made easier if a box, on wheels, is made for moving toys. Take any fair-sized box and make large spool wheels for it. Tie a piece of rope to it and the children themselves can load it up and pull the toys out of the way.

"Goodness," coughed the chimney-sweep. "I'm used to all sorts of smells as so many of them come up the kitchen chimneys when I'm sweeping them out. I don't remember this kind of a smell."

"So do I," echoed Nancy. "It smells queer and steamy."

And so it did! It was the steam from the boiling toad-warts that the gnome sorcerer had sent into the passage to make it twist out of its proper direction.

LETTERS TO LOVERS

Girl's Normal Need

By Winona Wilcox

O fiction and the movies and the drama put false ideas about love and lovers into the minds of maidens?

Thus must run the inevitable inquiry after reading the following:

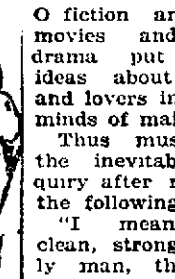

"I mean clean, strong manly man, the one who enjoys the right kind of a good time with a girl who enjoys the same thing. Do such men exist?"

"I'm a girl of a family as old as the community, a family which always has stood for the big and the true. I'm not 23, and a college graduate. I wear the right clothes, am called beautiful, and am employed in one of the 'isolated' professions where I never meet men."

"I have many men friends in our family's social life, but oh! they are not the kind I want to marry! I like my work, but certainly it doesn't satisfy all the desires of my heart."

"Frankly, I'd like to meet the right man and settle down in the biggest and noblest career open to a woman. I know I could make the right man happy."

"I have a truly wonderful father. Sometimes I fancy I have set too high a standard for young men and that I am dissatisfied because the men I might marry do not measure up to it.—M. A. B."

The young woman has analyzed herself exactly. Often it happens that the laughter of an extraordinary man establishes a test for young men which they cannot pass.

Doubtless the girl has formed an idea of what her husband should be from what her father is. Unfairly, but unintentionally, she expects her young men friends to possess the wisdom which accrues only from the hard experience of long years.

More than one fine girl has preferred to remain a spinster rather than put up with a boy of her own age until he developed to her father's level!

Now, spinsterhood is honorable and admirable, but it is a lonesome profession, as the modern girl fully realizes.

Sometimes I wonder why girls, today sophisticated in so many ways, think only half way to the end of the marriage problem. This girl finds herself in a cloistered profession. She knows that propinquity and opportunity are necessary ingredients of the wedding cake. She knows that when a man wishes to marry he goes where he can find a girl who suits his financial condition as well as his heart.

Why should a girl do differently?

Adventures Of The Twins

The Twisty Way

Nancy, Nick, Kip, the mole, the toy-maker and the chimney-sweep groped along through the dark passage, sure that they would soon be in Brownland and that their troubles were over. The gnomes with all their wicked tricks were far behind.

All at once Nick called out, "I smell something."

"So do I," echoed Nancy. "It smells queer and steamy."

And so it did! It was the steam from the boiling toad-warts that the gnome sorcerer had sent into the passage to make it twist out of its proper direction.

"Goodness," coughed the chimney-sweep. "I'm used to all sorts of smells as so many of them come up the kitchen chimneys when I'm sweeping them out. I don't remember this kind of a smell."

"I know more of your career than you think, Grey. You have been a spy as well as a traitor. And now you are crowning your infamy by weaving some spell over my cousin. I can hardly hope that you appreciate the honor I am doing you."

The black boy ran down the steps and presently Ephraim was in the shadow of the thicket:

"Give one to Mr. Grey, Ephraim, and the other to me."

"Ephraim," warned Erskine, "take this pistol. You may need it, to protect yourself."

"Indeed, yes," returned Grey, "and kindly instruct him not to use it to protect you." Mr. answer Erskine sprang from the shadow—discarding formal courtesies.

"In garde," he called sternly. The two shining blades clashed lightly and quivered against each other in the moonlight.

Grey was cautious at first, trying out his opponent's increase in skill: "You have made marked improvement."

"Thank you," smiled Erskine. "Your wrist is much stronger."

"Naturally," Grey leaped backward and parried just in time a vicious thrust that was like a dart of lightning.

"Ah! A Frenchman taught you that?"

"A Frenchman taught me all the little I know."

"I wonder if he taught you how to meet this?"

"He did," answered Erskine, parrying easily and with an answering thrust that turned Grey suddenly anxious. Grey began to breathe heavily.

"I think too," said Erskine, "that my wind is better than yours—would you like a short resting spell?"

From the shadow Ephraim chuckled, and Grey snapped:

"Make that black devil—" "Keep quiet, Ephraim!" broke in Erskine sternly.

Grey was getting angry now and was beginning to pant.

"Your wind is short," said Erskine with mock compassion. "I will give you a little breathing-spell presently."

Grey was not wasting his precious breath now and he made no answer.

"Now," said Erskine sharply, and Grey's blade flew from his hand and lay like a streak of silver on the dewy grass. Grey rushed for it.

"Damn you!" he raged, and wheeled furiously—patience, humor, and caution quite gone—and they fought now in deadly silence.

There was the sound of voices, and it was evident that the game had ended in a quarrel and the players were coming up the river-bank toward them. Erskine heard, but if Grey did he at first gave no sign—he was too much concerned with the death that faced him. Suddenly Erskine knew that Grey had heard, for the fear in his face gave way to a diabolic grin of triumph and he lashed suddenly into defense—if he could protect himself only a little longer! Erskine had delayed the finishing stroke too long and he must make it now.

Grey gave way step by step—parrying now. The blow flashed like tiny bits of lightning. Erskine's face, grim and inexorable, brought the sick fear back into Grey's, and Erskine saw his enemy's lips open.

He lunged then, his blade went true, sank to the hilt, and Grey's warped soul started on a way warring a cry for help. Erskine sprang back into the shadows and snatched his pistol from Ephraim's hand:

"Get out of the way now. Tell them I did it."

Once he looked back. He saw Barbara at the hall door with old Mammy behind her. With a running leap he vaulted the hedge and, hidden in the bushes, Ephraim heard Freely's hoofs beating over more faintly the sandy road.

XXIII

Yorktown broke the British heart, and General Dale went home to Red Oaks. He had pieced out the full story of Barbara and Erskine and Dane Grey and wisely he told the rest of Grey's dark tragedy, and the girl listened with horrified silence.

"I have never understood about myself—and that man," she said, "and I never will."

"I do," said the general gently, "and I understand you through my sister who was so like you. Erskine's father was as indignant as Harry is now, and I am trying to act toward you as my father did toward her."

The girl pressed her lips to one of his hands.

"I think I'd better tell you the whole story now," said General Dale, and he told of Erskine's father, his wildness and his wandering, his marriage, and the capture of his wife and the little son by the Indians, all of which she knew, and the girl wondered why he should be telling her again. The general paused:

"You know Erskine's mother was not killed. He found her." The girl looked up amazed, and turning the full meaning of it all. Her eyes dropped.

"Then," she said slowly, "that Indian girl—Early Morn—is his half-sister. Oh, oh!" A great pity flooded her heart and eyes. "Why didn't Erskine take them away from the Indians?"

"His mother wouldn't leave them." And Barbara understood.

"Poor thing—poor thing!"

"I think Erskine is going to try now."

THE END

"Did you tell him to bring them here?" The general put his hand on her head.

"I hoped you would say that. I did but he shook his head."

"Poor Erskine!" she whispered, and her tears came. Her father leaned back and for a moment closed his eyes.

"There is more," he said finally. "Erskine's father was the eldest brother—and Red Oaks—"

The girl sprang to her feet, agonized, shamed: "Belongs to Erskine," she finished with her face in his hands. "God pity me," she whispered. "I drove him from his own home."

"No said the old general with a gentle smile. He was driving the bugle deep, but sooner or later it had to be done."

"Look here!" He pulled an old piece of paper from his pocket and handed it to her. Her wide eyes fell upon a rude boyish scrawl and a rude drawing of a buffalo pierced by an arrow:

"It make me laugh. I have no use. I give hole dam plantashun Barbara."

"Oh!" gasped the girl and then—"where is he?"

"Waiting at Williamsburg to get his discharge." She rushed swiftly down the steps, calling:

"Ephraim! Ephraim!"

And ten minutes later the happy, grinning Ephraim, mounted on the thoroughbred, was speeding ahead of a whirlwind of dust with a little scented note in his battered slouch hat:

"You said you would come whenever I wanted you. I want you to come now—BARBARA!"

The girl would not go to bed and the old general from his window saw her like some white spirit of the night motionless on the porch. And there through the long hours she sat. The dawn came and with it, Ephraim. The girl waited where she was. Ephraim took off his battered hat.

"Marse Erskine done gone, Miss Barbary," he said brokenly. "He done one two days."

The girl said nothing, and there the old general found her still motionless—the torn bits of her note and the torn bits of Erskine's scrawling deed scattered about her feet.

XXIV

On the summit of Cumberland Gap Erskine Dale faced Freely east and looked his last on the forests that swept unbroken back to the river James.

That winter he made his clearing on the land that Dave Yandell had picked out for him, and in the center of it threw up a rude log hut in which to house his mother, for his remembrance of her made him believe that she would prefer to live alone.

In the early spring, when the brought his mother home, she said that Black Wolf had escaped and gone far away into the wilderness—that Early Morn had gone with him.

Erskine not knowing that Barbara was on her way to find him, started on a hunting-trip. In a few days Barbara arrived and found his mother unable to leave her bed, and Lady Noe sitting beside her.

Barbara told her of Erskine's giving her his inheritance, and that she had come to return it.

Meanwhile Erskine, haunted by his mother's sad face, had turned homeward. To his bewilderment, he found Barbara at his mother's bedside. A glance at their faces told him that death was near.

His mother held out her hand to him while still holding Barbara's. As in a dream, he bent over to kiss her, and with a last effort she joined their hands, clasping both.

A great peace transformed her face as she slowly looked at Barbara, and then up at Erskine. With a sigh her head sank lower, and her lovely dimming eyes passed into the final dark.

Two days later they were married. In the silence that fell, Erskine spoke of the life before them, of its hardships and dangers, and then of the safety and comfort of Virginia.

Barbara smiled:

"You choose the wilderness, and your choice is mine. We will leave suddenly and bent her head."

"To those who come after us," finished Erskine.

Lets Jobless Attend Movies On Credit Plan

Special to The Post-Crescent

Cleveland—"Credit customers welcome."

This sign appears across the front of the Priscilla theatre, a movie house in the heart of the downtown district.

Any person in Cleveland who is unemployed can open a charge account, declared S. M. Mannheim, one of the owners.

Each customer is allowed to attend one show a week on credit and the bills are payable every 20 weeks.

In securing a credit permit, each applicant need only sign a statement he is out of regular employment, giving the name of the firm where last employed. These permits may also be used by dependents.

Hundreds of unemployed men have taken advantage of the credit shows.

"No, I do not fear these bills will be unpaid," Mannheim declared. "I am glad to help those who cannot secure employment, and I know when they find a position they will pay in full."

This is believed to be the first "credit movie" in the United States.

Other shows also remain open all night so unemployed men may sleep there, out of the cold.

PUT ON PLAY IN SPITE OF STORM

School Children Surmount Great Difficulties in Presentation of Drama

(Special to Post-Crescent)—The drama, "The Virgin of Rome," presented by the pupils of the Most Precious Blood school was played to an audience of about 500 last Wednesday evening, in spite of difficulties. Due to the breaking down of transmission lines between Appleton and New London, electric current from that source was cut off, and the city power plant had been rendered out of commission by an accident in the boiler room, throwing the city into darkness. As the play had been scheduled for Wednesday evening, the Catholic school pupils were determined not to disappoint the audience, and by means of improvised lights, they succeeded. Gasoline torches served as stage lights, and the night police officer, Mr. Ringer, ushered the crowd into the Opera House with a lantern. The children and young people in the cast are to be given credit for their splendid presentation of the drama. It was given again on Sunday afternoon at 2:30, as the storm and drifts made it impossible for many to attend the Wednesday night performance.

There was little doubt in the minds of the people that consolidation is the best thing for the city. Other departments in Kaukauna municipal work have been joined together and it is expected it will not be long before affairs on both sides of the river will be operated by one group of officials and the imaginary line dividing the community will be wiped out. One of the most important results of the consolidation will be the concentrated buying power for the city schools. Under the old plan each board bought supplies separately for its school and invariably bills of the school were hopelessly mixed up. From now on buying will be left to one man who will buy for all. It has been figured that a saving of $1,200 in salaries among other things will be a result of the change. Candidates for membership on the new school board will be elected in the spring.

Kaukauna.—The first issue of the "Oriole," the high school paper, will be released Friday, March 3. The work was undertaken by the senior English classes, and through hearty effort and cooperation, has been made much easier than was expected. Enough material for the first issue was at the printers three weeks after it was decided to print the paper and now almost enough for the second issue is gathered. Four papers will be printed before school closes.

One fourth of the space is devoted to advertising. The space was quickly taken up by the merchants in this city, nearly everyone subscribing for an advertisement.

KAUKAUNA VOTES TO CONSOLIDATE SCHOOL BOARDS

Joint School District Carried Overwhelmingly in Special Election

Kaukauna.—Qualified voters in this city voted overwhelmingly in favor of consolidating the joint school districts and making the school board elective at special meetings of the two districts Friday evening. Attendance was larger than at any other school meeting ever held here.

Joint district No. 1 called its voters to the Nicolet school. By a vote of 295 to 95, the voters showed their desire to secure consolidation of the school districts and the question of making the school board elective was carried by a vote of 355 to 20. Joint school district No. 2 held a meeting in Park school and carried both questions, but by smaller majorities. The first question was carried by a vote of 225 to 107 and the question of electing the school board was carried 270 to 56.

There was little doubt in the minds of the people that consolidation is the best thing for the city. Guinea Pig Farm Is New Industry Here

The breeding of guinea pigs used in bacteriological experiments in the various laboratories of the country is a new industry in Appleton in which Harold W. Sievert, 204 Superior-st. is engaged. He is sending them all over the country and cannot begin to supply the demand. Last week he made shipments to Kansas City, Mo., and to Racine.

The little animals breed as rapidly as rabbits and Sievert always keeps at least 50 on hand. They sell by weight and those in greatest demand weigh from 7 to 9 ounces. The medium weights are from 10 to 13 ounces and the heavier weights from 13 to 16 ounces.

When young the animals are very delicate and require almost constant attention. Even with the best of care not more than 75 per cent reach maturity. They are reared in boxes with wire screens and thrive best in a warm even temperature.

To win a race a Jockey doesn't put extra weight on the horse that helps him succeed

No man or woman who wants to succeed in the race of life can afford the handicap of headaches, insomnia, indigestion and debility. Nor can they afford to take anything that may keep up a continual irritation of the nervous system.

Yet this is what many people do who drink excessive amounts of tea or coffee. For tea and coffee contain caffeine, a substance that is sometimes very injurious. Many doctors say that caffeine raises the blood pressure, irritates the kidneys, and over-stimulates the entire nervous system. Also that it is especially bad for growing children, or for any one who has any tendency to nervousness or insomnia.

If you want to avoid a possible cause of headache, insomnia, or nervousness, it might be well to stop taking tea and coffee for awhile, and drink rich, satisfying Postum, instead.

Postum is a delicately-roasted, pure cereal beverage—delicious and wholesome.

Order Postum from your grocer today. Drink this fragrant, healthful beverage for awhile, and see if you will not feel brighter, more active, and more resistant to fatigue—as so many thousands of others have felt.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

ORANGE AND BLUE QUINET BEATS OSHKOSH PREPS

APPLETON FIVE RALLYS TO WIN FAST STRUGGLE

Vincennes Make Slow Start and Come from Behind to Cop 25 to 17

Sensational basketball shooting by Kanouse and Ashman, accurate free throw slinging by Briese, strong guarding by Havens and Laughlin, and the great floor work of Briese gave the Appleton high school quintet a 25 to 17 victory over the Oshkosh five Saturday night in Alexander gymnasium. The teams put up a fast and bitter struggle and battled at top speed from the first tip-off until the final whistle.

GAME STARTS LATE
Owing to the condition of the rail-road the Oshkosh team did not arrive in Appleton until 10 o'clock and the game did not start until 10:20. The large crowd that gathered early in the evening waited through the long delay and a capacity house was on hand when the referee's whistle sent the quintets into action.

The Oshkosh tossers started with a rush and outplayed the Orange and Blue players during the first few minutes of the game. After six minutes of play the visitors had a 5 to 1 lead and the Vincennes appeared to be unable to get started. The first Appleton field goal was made by Ashman from a long shot when the lead was half gone and was followed by a free throw by Briese that brought the score to 5 to 4 in favor of Oshkosh. Briese of the invaders came right back with a field goal that gave Oshkosh a comfortable lead again but Ashman followed a few seconds later with a counter from a long shot for Appleton. Briese sunk a field goal after the next tip-off and the Orange and Blue had an 8 to 7 lead. Fifteen minutes of the game had been played and from that period on Appleton never was headed. Kanouse tossed a field goal and Briese hit with a free throw. Kanouse got another field goal a few seconds before time was up and the half ended with Appleton on the long end of a 13 to 7 count.

APPLETON STARTS SLOW

The Orange and Blue were slow to get started again in the second half and the Oshkosh athletes counted 3 points before the Appleton men were able to hang up a marker. Briese started the scoring for the Orange and Blue when he sunk a free throw after four minutes of play and the count was 14 to 10 for Appleton. Laughlin hit with a field goal from a difficult angle but Hotchkiss came right back with a field goal for the invaders. Briese shot a free throw and Ashman tossed a field goal from a long shot. Briese scored two free throws in rapid succession and Kanouse put two field goals through the hoop from long shots. LaBord scored a field goal for Oshkosh from under the hoop and followed with a field goal from in front of the basket. Briese sunk a free throw for the victors a few seconds before time was called. Appleton scored 12 points in the second half to 10 for Oshkosh. The summary follows:

Appleton	Oshkosh
F. Briese	Carter
F. Kanouse	Gibson
C. Laughlin	Albrecht
G. Ashman	Barsh
G. Havens	Strzyzewski
Substitutions: Gillespie for Laughlin, Mills for Briese, Berro for Havens, Hornbech for Ashman, Heideman for Kanouse, Reed for Carter, Novotny for Gibson, Hotchkiss for Albrecht, LaBord for Hotchkiss.

EXPECT BANNER TENNIS SEASON

Big Fight for Davis World's Championship Cup Coming Next Summer

By Henry L. Farrell
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York.—Another banner season of tennis is on the schedule for the coming summer.

The Davis Cup preliminary rounds and the challenge round with the usual national championship should make the court game reach even greater heights of popularity than it scored last summer.

Early indications are that there will be just as many nations in the chase for that cup and the competition should be even keener as several challenging countries are going to send stronger teams.

Australia, for instance, has announced that she will call upon her old Davis Cup stars, Norman Brookes and Gerald Patterson, to come to the aid of the cause this summer.

However, it is generally agreed among the close followers of the game that the American team is in no greater danger than last year when it had an easy time defending the cup against the Japanese players.

Jack Hawks, the young Australian, in a story published in his home country, said that as long as William Tilden and William Johnston are in form that there is little hope for any other nation to lift the cup out of America. Hawks made some interesting observations also about the American players. He said that after Tilden, Johnston and Vincent Richards, there was a wide gap between the other stars. He observed also that Australian women players could hold their own with American stars.

He paid a glowing tribute to Miss Helen Wills, the fifteen-year-old California girl. He classed her as a "coming Lenglen."

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair in grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-made product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular, because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw the through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

FIGHTERS TRAIN FOR BATTLES IN APPLETON ARENA

Scrappers to be in Top Shape for Bouts in Armory G Thursday Night

Boxers who are on the card for the fistie show Thursday night in Armory G will arrive in Appleton Monday to complete training for the bouts. Elmer Johnston, matchmaker for the Mid-West Athletic club, received letters Saturday from the boys living out of town who will appear on the program and all of them said they are in good condition and need only a few days of work to put themselves on edge for the battles.

Appleton fight fans are showing great interest as the day of the fight show approaches. The card is one that strikes the fancy of most ring enthusiasts as the boys to clash in the bouts are slam-bang fighters rather than fancy boxers and each match will be a real battle from start to finish.

The struggle between Young Schuster of Milwaukee and Red Vonuk of Manitowish is particularly attractive. These boys, who are scheduled to go 10 rounds at the middleweight limit, are tough and willing mixers and each packs a sleep producing punch. They both are after engagements in Milwaukee rings and are anxious to make a good showing here in order to attract the attention of Milwaukee promoters. They can be depended upon to set a fast pace all the way and put up a sensational struggle.

The semi-windup, an eight round affair, between Jack Zwick of Kaukauna and Ed. Wagner of Appleton, will bring together a pair of hard-hitting and aggressive battlers. These leather pushers have no real love for each other and are out to settle personal differences when they meet in the ring Thursday night.

Two clever and fast boxers but hard hitters will meet in the six-round preliminary when Wizard Sharpe of Haden, Mont., and Vincent Button of Kimberly come together. They are game ringsters and are sure to travel at top speed for the entire distance.

It is very popular, because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw the through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

There is a runner on second, and two strikes and three balls on the batter. On the pitch the runner on second starts to steal third. The batsman swings at the ball and misses it. The pitch is close and inside. The ball ticks the shirt of the batsman as it whizzes by. The catcher catches the ball and throws the runner out at third. There is one out at the time. Does that complete a double play and retire the side?

When a pitch at which the batter swings and misses comes into contact with the person of the batsman the ball becomes dead. In the case cited it was the third strike, retiring the batsman. However, when the ball ticked the shirt of the batter after he had swung and missed, the ball became dead. No bases can be run on such a pitch. Therefore the runner thrown out trying to steal third should be sent back to second. It was not a double play only the batsman was retired.

LEONARD, WITH INJURED HAND, WINS FROM MORAN

New Orleans. — Benny Leonard, lightweight champion of the world, had the better of Pal Moran of New Orleans, in their ten round no decision bout Saturday night at the Louisiana auditorium.

Moran made a remarkable showing, sticking his chin out to the champion on several occasions, and rushing the champion at times. He had the better of two of the rounds and held the champion even in another.

Leonard fought most of the battle with his left hand. He said after the bout he had injured his right hand by hitting Moran on the head in the first round. He seemed fresh after the bout. Moran also seemed strong, but a little tired.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair in grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-made product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular, because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw the through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

HOME TALENT PLAY

"The Duke" in St.
Joseph Hall Tonight

The success of "The Duke" which St. Aloysius Young Mens society will repeat at St. Joseph church on Monday evening brought the young men two invitations to produce their play in nearby towns. Menasha and Kaukauna. The performances on Sunday were played to capacity houses and the actors are being congratulated by members of the parish on the splendid work which the play represented.

Tickets for the Monday evening performance will be reserved at the K. F. Keller jewelry store until 6 o'clock Monday, and after that at the parish hall. The management is making every effort to accommodate all those who wish to see the performance.

The splendid acting of every member of the cast makes it difficult to say that any one actor was the star. The scene of the play is laid in Kili Island, Ireland, and the lines of the play carry much Irish wit. Dates for the performances in the other cities have not been set. The young men will begin work immediately on another play.

TOLL LINES AGAIN
UNITE CITIES OF
FOX RIVER VALLEYTelegraph and Freight Service
Are Resumed—All Trains
to Run Tuesday

to extend his personal supervision to any point in the rural district. With 600 men working from Fond du Lac and Plymouth north, huge quantities of material are required. Every express brings wire here by rail, but it is not fast enough to suit officials who want service restored quickly. Mr. Killam therefore established a truck train between Milwaukee and Oshkosh, operating day and night hauling equipment. Roads to that point are favorable, but horses had to be put into service from Oshkosh to Appleton, and are pouring freight into the hands of workmen.

"Much credit is due everybody in our organization, from the foreman and department heads and office workers to the men digging holes for poles," said Mr. Quinlan. "They are loyal to the core and it is their ceaseless work that is turning a return of service. Girls in our district office are working from 6 o'clock mornings until midnight so we can keep our organization informed and checked."

MANY EXPERTS HERE
Several of the company's most expert men added to Mr. Quinlan's staff are giving the entire rebuilding program the most efficient guidance ever seen in a relief program in this locality. L. W. Gerdon and J. A. Brown, general foremen of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, the former working north out of Appleton and the latter north from Neenah to Appleton and south to Oshkosh are putting an amazing amount of "pep" into the country toll line gangs. James Hobbins of this city, district plant chief, is accomplishing like results out of Oshkosh south, and C. W. Wilson is speeding relief around Fond du Lac.

In Mr. Quinlan's office are W. E. Schroeder, Milwaukee superintendent of accountancy for the company, and Fred McCormick and O. Hobbins, engineers, who are giving expert assistance on the administrative end during the emergency. What few lines the company has between cities are watched closely by Carl Thomas, who can effect repairs in ten minutes at can point where trouble is discovered. Without regard for expense and with only the purpose of service in mind, the company has mustered the best men in the business from Chicago, Ohio, Indiana and eastern points to cooperate with the local organization.

7,811 POLES WOVN
Figures on record sheets might be termed amazing, so huge are they becoming as definite statements of conditions reach the district office. A report on broken poles the first day read 1,000, next day it said 2,378. The total has grown until Monday morning a "casualty" list of 7,811 started officials in the face relating to toll lines. Only poles laid by local exchanges and rural telephone companies are additional, with no immediate way to check up the total. "Thousands of miles of copper wire are on the way," The old wire is useless and is consigned to the junk heap. Some idea of the quantity may be gained when one considers that 30 wires are strung from here to Green Bay, 30 miles and 50 to Fond du Lac, 40 miles, with hundreds going in other directions also.

TRAIN SERVICE IMPROVES
Passenger schedules on the Northwestern road were followed Sunday, but trains were running late because of the absence of telegraph service to the south and also because signals are frozen up. The block system cannot operate and trains therefore must stop at each signal point. Ashland division trains have been operated on the north line Saturday, and trains south to Milwaukee Monday morning. Dispatch wires are restored as far as Fond du Lac.

Northwestern way freights Nos. 54 and 59 moved for the first time Monday. Switching could not be resumed until the yards were dug out by crews with pickaxes, but industry tracks will be cleared in two or three days, W. B. Dasing, general agent says.

One Soo line engine ditched in the Appleton yards was righted by the wrecking crew Monday morning and expected to be out of the way by afternoon. Schedules would be resumed Tuesday, G. L. Sweetman, general agent announced. Freight for Appleton which was held at Neenah was to arrive in Appleton Monday.

Line crews of both the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies reached Appleton over Sunday and began repairing wire damage. One Postal crew came all the way from Erie, Pa. They were able to give the first commercial service by connecting the Postal office north lines with Michigan points near Sault Ste. Marie. Three hundred twenty messages were sent by the Western Union office by mail Saturday night, just too late for delivery to business houses. A special messenger came by train from Green Bay bringing 161 which had been wired to that point for relay. Fond du Lac has a messenger traveling back and forth with Milwaukee and Chicago business. The extent of efforts by companies to get messages into Appleton is shown by the duplications, the same telegrams coming from several directions.

LIONS CLUB MAY BE FORMED AT MEETING HERE

Appleton men who are taking the lead in the organization of a Lions club in this city will meet at 5 o'clock Monday evening in the Y. M. C. A. when it is expected that an organization will be perfected. They will meet again for dinner at 6:30 Wednesday evening at the Sherman house.

Dance at Armory, Tuesday night. Admission 50c.

Wedding To Be Big Feature Of Jubilee Party

It is promised that blazes will be absent from the faces of two during young people of Appleton who have agreed to take the solemn vows of marriage during the silver jubilee banquet to be given by homestead 6004, Brotherhood of American Yeoman, at Odd Fellow hall Tuesday evening.

Ever since it was decided to hold an elaborate banquet to commemorate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the local homestead, the officers and committees in charge of preparations have been casting about for some unusual attraction for the evening. In doing this, it was their aim to arrange a feature which would make the evening live long in the memories of members of the homestead. Finally they decided that a public marriage was the feature they wanted.

Monday, neither officers nor committee members would reveal the identity of the young persons who have agreed to marry. But they do promise that the event will be a real treat for everyone who attends the banquet.

Serving of the banquet will begin promptly at 7 o'clock. Immediately after the banquet, the marriage will take place. Elaborate decorations are being arranged especially for the wedding and a pretty reception will be given the bridegroom and his bride.

Addresses will be delivered by Elmer Smith, of Oshkosh, state manager of the Brotherhood of American Yeoman, and Dr. Edward F. Melles, homestead physician of Appleton. Other prominent speakers will take part. During the banquet and for the dancing afterwards, music will be provided by a local orchestra.

OBSERVE BIRTHDAY
OF ST. PAUL CHURCHExcellent Program is Carried Out on Anniversary of Dedication

In spite of conditions which prevented the attendance of one of the of the dedication of St. Paul Lutheran church was appropriately and pleasantly observed. Not only was the church crowded at all services but a large number of people were served with dinner and supper in the auditorium of St. Paul school.

The Rev. Martin F. Sauer of Brillion who was to speak in English at the morning service was unable to reach Appleton because of the storm blockade, so his brother, the Rev. T. J. Sauer, pastor of the church, delivered sermons in English and German instead. The Rev. John Heussel of Woodville preached in German at the morning services. Instrumental and vocal music was given by the Lyric orchestra and the Concordia choir, both of which are connected with churches here and at Kaukauna.

When Paul Reinisch comes to Appleton on Tuesday to speak on the Washington peace conference he will bring all the knowledge of the workings of the conference which he has gained as a consulting lawyer on international problems. He gave exceptional service to his country as an ambassador and in China made his reputation as one of the greatest authorities on international problems.

Because Dr. Reinisch was going to speak in Madison on Monday, Dr. Samuel Plantz of Lawrence college was able to induce him to come to Appleton. He comes directly from the conference where he acted as legal aide to the Chinese delegation and was largely responsible for the attitude at the conference which that delegation took.

JOSEPH DRAKE

"When I say that I weigh twenty-five pounds more than I did a short time ago it speaks volumes for the merit of Tanlac," said Jos. B. Drake, 430 Belmont Ave., Springfield, Mass. "The first thing Tanlac did for me was to give me an appetite and tone up my stomach. It wasn't long before I was eating things I hadn't dared touch for years and anyone to see the hearty way I eat now would find it hard to believe that a few weeks ago I was dyspeptic and living on the lightest kind of diet."

"Another good thing Tanlac did for me was to drive the rheumatism almost entirely out of my system. In fact, I can truthfully say it has made me feel like a new man in every way. It certainly is a grand medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Appleton by Voigt Drug Co. and by leading druggists everywhere.

Fancy Work to do---

WHY not make sewing for Spring a different and delightful thing this year? Where very plain things were made last year, why not add a touch of embroidery or applique this year. Not only is the work ten times more enjoyable, but there are the daintiest pieces of handwork in the world as a result.

Many of the embroidery models are very simple and only a little work is required to make them exquisitely dainty. There are stamped tea cloths—inexpensive things of Indian Head with or without a hemstitched edge for crochet. 79c. Stamped lunch cloths of oyster-white linen are $1.98 for the 36 inch size. Napkins of the same material are 48c each.

Women's stamped house-dresses of chambray are shown in pink, blue or green. In charming patterns for embroidery at 98c.

Stamped unbleached muslin gowns, with colored pieces for applique are $1.19.

Stamped ready-made combination suits of flesh batiste with hemstitched edge. $1.59.

Children's play suits of black sateen, stamped for embroidery—$1.89.

Children's stamped play aprons in pink or blue ging-ham. 98c each.

Jewelry Is The Fashion
This Spring

OBSERVE the lady on the right—notice that she toys with a fashionable necklace and her ears are allowed to peep out enough to display little pearl studs. Such is the fashion. Last year such things were individual fads—this season they are absolute necessities if one dresses well.

One Must Wear Ear Rings—

You will be quite enfranchised with the long pendant rings, the shorter round ones, and the still shorter pearl stud rings. Some ear rings come in black jet, there are bright shades of jade, lapis and cherry, and softly toned pearls. All are quite in fashion and range in price from 59c to $3.50.

A touch of color to the coiffure is planned with these barret pins. They are thickly strewn with brilliants in red, green or blue. Fancy shapes are to be had from 85c to $2.

And Here are Bracelets

The most graceful bracelet is simply a string of beads with a pendant of beads dangling from it. They are shown in jade and jet at $1. and $3. Those very narrow Rhinestone bar pins are priced at 50c; 75c and up to $3.50.
